

I feel that I was misled and deceived into buying what I thought was a reasonable investment. This was based on statements by the company and employee's of company. I feel that we were deceived our money taken in bad faith. The people who seem to benefit being the company spokesman and employee's who seem to be the beneficiaries of restructuring. The stockholders are the company not the employee's or one major investor. we should not be left out in the cold.